Analysis of Credit Limit Counteroffer: You initially offered a $3,000 increase to Michael Gonzales's credit limit; the client countered, requesting a $5,000 increase. Below is a comprehensive analysis based on the available customer data and investigation results: --- ###

Customer Credit Profile Review Key Strengths: - FICO Scores: 724 (FICO 8), 722 (FICO 9) — both well above the premium threshold, indicating strong creditworthiness. - Payment History: 11 on-time payments in the last 12 months, 0 late payments — perfect payment record. - Credit Utilization: 20.4% — healthy and within recommended limits, showing responsible usage. - Verified Annual Income: $111,398 — above average, and verified. - Debt-to-Income Ratio: 31.7% — moderate, within acceptable banking risk parameters. - Fraud Risk: Low (score 7.95), identity fully verified, KYC score solid. - Employment Status: Part-time, but income stability score is strong (82.4). - Account Tenure: 38 months — solid relationship history. Segment: Premium customer in CA (West Donaldton), with low geographic risk. --- ### Investigation Results Summary - Repeated Recommendations: Multiple investigation modules (Credit Profile, Payment History, Geographic Risk) recommend approving a credit limit increase based on the strong overall credit profile. - Smaller Increase with Monitoring: Some modules suggest considering a smaller increase and ongoing monitoring, especially when referencing scenarios with lower FICO scores (not applicable here). - Additional Documentation: Routine recommendation for review with documentation, but no red flags in current verified data. - Revenue Opportunity: Strong profile suggests potential for cross-sell and additional credit products, indicating the customer is a valuable banking relationship. --- ### Credit Limit Request Context - Current Limit: $32,000 - Current Balance: $6,512.54 - Requested Increase: $5,000 (to $37,000) - Utilization Post-Increase: Expected to decrease, further improving risk profile. - Income/DTI Capacity: With verified income and moderate DTI, the requested increase is sustainable. --- ### Risk Considerations - No recent delinquencies or adverse events. - Part-time employment is offset by high income and stability scores. - No fraud or KYC concerns. - Increase is well within industry norms for premium segment customers. --- ### Actionable Recommendation - Approving the client's $5,000 counteroffer is well supported by both investigation results and customer profile data. - If operational policy requires incremental increases, a $3,000 increase with a review after 3-6 months is also defensible, but investigation results lean toward full approval. - Implement post-increase monitoring (e.g., periodic utilization and payment reviews), consistent with best practice. --- ### Summary Table | Item | Value | Risk/Comment | |---|---|---|---| | FICO Scores | 724 / 722 | Excellent | | Payment History | 100% on-time | No late payments | | Utilization | 20.4% | Well below risk threshold | | Verified Income | $111,398 | High, stable | | DTI | 31.7% | Moderate, safe | | Fraud/KYC | Low/Verified | No concerns | | Employment | Part-time | Offset by income/stability | | Account Tenure | 38 months | Strong relationship | | Requested Increase | $5,000 | Supported by profile | --- ### Final Recommendation Approve the $5,000 credit limit increase for Michael Gonzales, with standard post-increase monitoring protocols. The customer's profile and investigation results fully support this action, and there is no material risk to the institution. If you require further scenario analysis or wish to simulate alternative outcomes, use the /scenario command. Let me know if you need additional documentation review or wish to discuss monitoring protocols and cross-sell opportunities.
